FLYING SQUADRON WILL FURNISH BIG TRADES DAY PROGRAM

DRILLING IS SHUT DOWN IN FIELDS OF MILAM COUNTY

HEAVY RAINS MAKE ROAD IMPOSSIBLE TO MANY OF OIL AREAS.

Rain, which was general over the county, shut down drilling in the Milam County field, putting the roads leading to outside districts in an almost impassible condition.

The feature well of the week was drilled in and completed by the Oriental Oil Company of Dallas in the shallow field. The well is number 6 McClellan. At 698 feet the hole is showing for a 12 to 15 barred producer and is not yet completed. This is by far the best well this company has drilled in the Milam County pool.

Blake Smith, drilling on Walkers creek, about three miles northeast of Cameron on the north side of Little River are down 638 feet, the bits are in the shale and the well is looking good for a puroducer according to the field men in charge of drilling. Should Blake Smith, get a producer in this part of the county a new field would be opened up. The location of the well is midway between the Hatt well at Watts Switch and the Guiberson Posey number one.

S. A. Guiberson number one Posey, is shut down with a fishing job, the drillers lost a bailer in the hole, and is the first fishing job the crew has had since the well was standardized Fishing tools have been ordered and operations will be resumed as soon as these arrive.

The pipe line runs for the field are around the 500 barrel mark, with oil selling at $2.00 per barrel for 38 gravity and above. Scouts for all of the larger companies are in the field this week checking up the shallow field and the wildcats. The Well at Pettibone being drilled by White and Cantrell on the Baker farm is shut down.

BISHOP C. S. QUIN DELIVERS SERMON

LEARNED DIVINE PREACHES TO CHURCH IN CAMERON SUNDAY.

The Rt. Rev. Clinton S. Quin, D. D., Bishop Co-adjutor of the Texas Diocese, preached to a large crowd at All Saint's Episcopal Church Sunday Morning.

The Bishop chose as his text a question asked of Christ by the disciples, "Master, Master, What must I do to attain Eternal Life." The Masters answer was, "Follow thou me."

The Bishop asked the Congregation two questions. "Who said follow me?" He quoted two other people as having said this, they were Buddha and Mohammed. He then compared these two religons with the Christian Religion, and then told why the Christian Religion was superior to the others. The other question is. "To whom was he speaking?" The bishop said "Christ was not talking to Criminals or other law breakers, but was giving to all the people who professed to be Christians, a command to follow him." He said, "No man can be a success unless God has a partnership with him."

The Bishop had the interest of the congregation from start to finish, and when te sermon was over, many people complimented him on his splendid discourse.

The Bishop was asked to preach again Sunday night but was forced to decline the invitation because of an engagement in Belton. Before coming to Cameron the Bishop held an early morning service in Calvert.

STATE OWES MILAM COUNTY $100,000 IN SCHOOL FUNDS

EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION WILL MAKE $24,000 OF DEFICIT AVAILABLE.

When Governor Neff signed the emergency appropriation bill for rural schools $24,000 of the deficit in the school funds of the county was taken up.

Up to Saturday when the governor signed the bill the state owed the county more than $120,000. County superintendent Jim F. Chadwick has a state warrant for about $20,000 sent out several weeks ago on which the county has not been able to realize any money owing to the financial condition of the state.

In some sections of the county schools have been interrupted by the lack of funds. The forthcoming emergency money will help a little but the county is still short about $100,000 with the term more than half gone.

In the opinion of many local financiers the state government finds itself in a critical situation. The legislature having before it at this time a large number of revenue bills is not looked upon here as beneficial because no matter what measures may be enacted for revenue gathering there is little hope of realizing on them if the people cannot pay.

The legislature, while not as yet enacting finally into law any of the extortionate revenue measures, has been severely criticised all over Texas as well as in Milam county for its seeming false idea of economical adjustment of the situation. A search of the records will show praccally no effective legislation introduced to lower the expenses of the state, the average law maker pursuing the policy of "revenue getting" without knowing where the basis of revenue will be found.

The people have steadily faced an increase of taxation at the hands of each suceeding legislature until the time has come to about face and begin to knife the expense account.

Until such time as the tax laws can be revised and the burden of taxation taken from the backs of the farmers of Texas, one of the great evils of modern times will remain uncorrected and tax wealth will go on absorbing without paying anything back to the support of the government.

BAPTIST BROTHERHOOD TO MEET ON MARCH 6

YARRELTON BAPTIST CHURCH IS BURNED IN SUNDAY BLAZE

BUILDING TOTALLY DESTROYED —WORK SAVES PART OF FIXTURES.

The Baptist church at Yarrellton was burned Sunday with a loss of several thousand dollars.

The fire is said to have started from a defective flue and the building was burned while preparations were under way to hold services in the church.

With the aid of the members of the congregation much of the furnishings of the church were saved, including doors and window shutters removed while the fire was in progress.

Tuesday Joe Gibbs of Yarrellton, was in Cameron with a subscription list to raise money to rebuild the church. The people responded liberally, the three banks in Cameron donating $100 each for the new building. Many others subscribed in amounts of $50 and over.

There was no insurance on the building which was of wood construction and one of the best church buildings in the small towns of the county.

Mrs. Harvey Gandy of Houston, is visiting relatives here this week.

S. P. Cross has returned from San Antonio where he visited his wife in the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. H. Krough. He reports Mrs. Cross much improved in health.

Jeff Kemp and Henry Ruby Make Trouble at Meeting of Methodist Brotherhood

BREACH OF ETIQUETTE TURNS GLASS OF WATER INTO LAP OF COLLEGE PROFESSOR—BUCK BONDS GETS SOME WINGS AND CHARLIE GREEN PATS HIS FOOT.

(By Dick Brewer, Secretary)

The Methodist Men's Brotherhood met with a large attendance of regular members and visitors. The meeting got off to a late start for a reason that was not discovered until after adjournment. It was fifteen minutes after the hour which had been set for the dinner to be served. Very few men had arrived. The speaker of the evening was on hand to deliver the address but it was beginning to look as if it would not be necessary; with so few listeners. The secretary, as well as he likes chicken, was getting a little uneasy for fear the crowd was not going to show up. He looked around the room and all the men that were there could be counted on his fingers. Brothers Frank Hardy, Dunlap, Bill Triggs, Jeff Kemp, Henry Ruby, and a few more of the champion chicken eaters of the Brotherhood made up the crowd. They were all getting hungry, the secretary knew this to be a fact, and had gathered around the room in groups of twos and threes..

Judge Kemp and Henry Ruby had gathered their crowd around the west entrance and were engaging in one of those old time chats. Brother Hardy was successfully entertaining the speaker of the evening. It was about seven-thirty by this time and still no more men had arrived. Bro. Key, came in and asked where the men were. No one seemed to know so it was decided to go on with the dinner. What few men were present began to find seats at the table. The secretary found one where he thought the biggest piece of chicken would be sure to land and sat down. A minute later he looked around and nearly every seat was occupied. The secretary immediately pinched himself on the calf of the leg just to see if he was seeing things or if they were real men. So suddenly had they arrived the secretary couldn't believe his own eyes. This incident bothered the secretary all the rest of the evening. After the meeting had adjourned he inquired of his good friend H. F. Smith what the trouble was, that no one came until such a late hour, and when they did come they all came at once.

H. F. said, "We were all here on time but we couldn't get in."

"Couldn't get in," said the secretary somewhat surprised.

"Yes, couldn't get in," replied his good friend H. F.

The secretary began to feel like his good friend H. F. was pulling the Ananias stunt, so he inquired why it was that he couldn't get in and at

CEMETERY ASSN. MEETS AND NAMES OFFICERS FOR YEAR

MISS AETNA SMITH IS PRESIDENT AND MRS. A. N. GREEN VICE PRESIDENT.

The Cemetery Association held a meeting last Thursday with the election of officers for the ensuing year. Miss Aetna Smith was elected president; Mrs. A. N. Green, vice president; Mrs. Oxsheer Smith was elected secretary; Misses Beth Jeter, Clara Thomas and Mrc. Hayden Lawrence, assistant secretaries.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Gillis, Roy Baskin, Mrs. B. J. Baskin and Mrs. W. A. Morrison, were named as a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws for the association.

Mr. Sam Law, for more than four years, treasurer and manager of the association, made his report to the meeting. The report, a most remarkable showing, pleased the association and was commended in a and manager of the Association the vote of thanks from the association.

When Mr. Law became treasurer indebtedness was $5000. This was in 1918 and the report made Thursday shows that Mr. Law has paid off this indebtedness and has a balance on hand of $707. Within less than five years Mr. Law has brought the association from a seemingly hopeless financial tangle to a sound business basis with the balance on the right hand side of the ledger.

It was decided that the association would meet quarterly, and that dues would be collected quarterly in advance.

Mrs. Jeff Kemp acted as chairman of the meeting, yielding the chair to Jeff T. Kemp acted as chairman of the meeting, yielding the chair to Miss Aetna Smith on her election as president of the association.

Among the plans of the Association is the opening up of new cemetery ground, the present plot being almost filled with graves. The association will send a delegation to the council to discuss future plans.

NO BIDS RECEIVED FOR SEWER LINE

BONDS SOLD AND MONEY AVAILABLE BUT NO BIDS FOR WORK.

Despite the fact that the city has advertised for two weeks for bids for the construction of the extension of the sewer system in Cameron, no bids have been received from contractors for this work.

The bonds in the amount of $14,000 have been sold to the three banks of Cameron and the funds are available for this work but until such time as a contract can be closed for this construction no extession can be made.

In many sections of the city congested conditions have been prevalent for some years and the sewer extension bonds are declared the most needed improvment in recent years.

The bids were to have been opened Wednesday. It will be necessary to readvertise for bids for this work.

OUR FARMERS HAVE A MONEY MAKING CHANCE

"The year 1923 presents a wonderful chance for money-making to level headed common sense farmers all over the South," said H. G. Hastings, prominent agricultural leader, recently.

"By this we do not mean an expanded cotton acreage over that of 1922, but just the contrary. There were enough acres planted in cotton last year to furnish, under normal season of growth, all the American cotton that the world can afford to pay a price for that will reward the cotton grower adequately for his work.

"Every effort will be made by cotton speculators and the European cotton mills to encourage larger acreage. The present price of cotton distinctly encourages our folks to go 'cotton crazy' again just as they always have in high price periods in past years. Every time there has been increased cotton acreage in high price periods there has followed a mountain of debt and farmer bankruptcies the following fall and winter.

"Increased acreage in cotton in 1923 should be fought like fire. Stick to that acreage which has been found safe under weevil conditions. Cultivate and fertilize to increase yield per acre as much as you please, but don't increase acreage. If you do you simply play into the hands of the speculators again.

"Plant every available acre outside the limited cotton acreage in food, grain and forage crops. No farmer can afford to buy food and grain from merchants when that food and grain can be produced on home acres at certainly not more than half the store price.

"Further, every dollar's worth produced on home acres in the way of needed food and grain for home consumption means a dollar less spent or gone into debt for. If we all 'lived at home and boarded at the same place' most of our cotton money would stick in our pockets or to our account in the bank instead of all going to pay debts. The money that sticks is the money that counts."

SAP RAILROAD THANKS THOSE WHO MADE THE EXHIBIT TRAIN SUCCESS

To Specialists, Exhibtors, Newspapers, Commercial Clubs, Attendants, Railway Men and all others assisting in making the Farm Train a success:

When there were such a general attempt on the part of many people to make the Farm Train a success, it has become more or less difficult for me on behalf of the Railroad to express my appreciation to each individual. I am therefore asking you to consider this note as an additional expression of appreciation arising out of the generous help and enthusiasm of the many who contributed to the unusual success of the Train. Had it not been for this almost universal enthusiasm and assistance, it would not have been possible to have accomplished what was done, so I am asking you individually to feel that this is an expression, not only personal appreciation, but that it is also of that broader feeling that seemed to become part and parcel of the thought and activtity of everyone along our lines.

I wish I could fully tell how much we have enjoyed and appreciated your activities and sympathetic efforts, and I trust that you will feel that it is sot only your personal efforts but the breadth of the movement that seems to auger well for the future.

If there is anything further that we can do any time, please do not hesitate to call upon us.

Yours very truly,
H. M. MADISON,
Gen. F. & P. Agt.

EXCAVATION OF TOMB MAY TAKE 2 YEARS SIGHTSEERS AMAZED

Luxor, Egypt, Feb. 19.—There may be two bodies instead of one in the 30 century-old tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen, in the valley of the Kings, according to belief expressed today by Egyptologists present Sunday at the formal opening of the inner chamber.

A supposition that there is more than one mummy in the inner chamber was based upon the size of a double canopied sarcophagus and the wide variety of jewelry and other articles strewn about the tomb.

So extensive is the find and so fragile are some of the objects, notably woven cloths and frail furniture that it is estimated by Howard Carter one of the chiefs of the exploring party, that it may take two years to remove all the articles from the tomb.

The secret of the sarcophagus with its golden canopies secured by great bolts hung on hinges of pure bronze, may not be revealed until next Autumn, ulness present plans are changed. The inner chamber of the tomb is to be closed as soon as all the portable articles are removed to pry into the contents of the sarcophagus.

On account of the weather prevailing in Egypt many treasures will be left untouched for the time. Greatest care must be taken with those that can be removed now. The finely woven garments are so fragile that the most delicate handling will be necessary. Already some of them appear to be crumbling to dust. But the marvelous pigments remain, a monument to the coloring art of the ancient Egyptians.

The favored few who are allowed to enter the inner chamber with Lord Carnarvon and Carter on Sunday declared the splendors which greeted their eyes were beyond human indignation.

Mural decorations upon the interior of the chamber and the finely wrought frescoes may disclose a school of Egyptian art, whose history long ago was lost in the mists of antiquity.

It is impossible to estimate the value of the jewels in modern money. The sum would be fabulous. In historic value they possess a worth that is beyond mere monetrary consideration.

Tut-Ankh-Amen's sarcophagus seems to have been built up in sections and with the most exquisite pains. The luxurious decorations are in contrast with workmanship in the outside chamber.

POLITICAL REACTION.

By Wm. A. Black.

"All things comes to him who hustles while he waits." This is just as true in matters political as it is in personal matters. If farmers and wage earners want to get relief from unjust tax burdens and at the same time increase their opportunities, they have just about got to do it themselves. Business interests are not going to help them much. Organized labor has always taken the advance in education, health and safety. It looks as though they would have to do the same in fundamental economic adjustments. Business interest remain appathetic and indifferent to any constructive program. While the legislature is in session and the multitude of business taxes proposed, a big lobby is maintained at Austin to prevent passage of certain tax measures. Each industry effected argues its own interests and if successful in opposition, rests there until another legislature meets. If unsuccessful and the new tax is levied, they adjust themselves to the load so as to pass it on to the consumer and rarely make any further move for relief.

The New York Herald, a typical business man's paper, highly commends two bills before the New York legislature to solve the perplexing housing problem. Both of these measure appeal to the police power of the state. One of them is a drastic law against combinations of manufacturers and dealers in building supplies. The other law is directed against the trade unions. This latter law provides a wide open door for apprenticeship in the building crafts and prohibits any discrimination of workers as between employers. The practical results are that there can be no union jobs, and every organized labor man knows that that would destroy his union. The Herald highly commends these measures and says if adopted it will settle the housing problem. It ignores New York's experience the past two years as to the effect of tax exemption on dwelling house improvements; that it has provided more family apartments in these years than has been built in any five previous years. It is the usual appeal to the police power of the State instead of a rational use of well known economic principles.

Business men in Texas follow the lead of the big papers. A prominent manufacturer, rated at a million and more, bluntly says that he is indifferent. He understands the land values tax and says it is the only rational method, but that he has no interest in working for a change that must come in the future. He says his own interest is in the things that immediately affect his business. Another big business man, in reply to a letter showing how his own business is adversely affected by present methods and also calling his attention to the raid on business by the legislature, calmly says, "We are perfectly willing to go to the bow-wows with the balance of the state and in case the present legislature passes all these tax laws we are sure to go there." These are but typical.

Governor Neff, through speech and message, has urged more business taxes and tax exemptions to encourage business, in the same breath. If this had occurred but once we might conclude that the governor made the slip by chance, but he has reiterated these confused statements on several occasions. We can understand the indifference of successful business men though there is no apology for it; we cannot understand or explain the confusion and muddling of a chief executive whose business and responsibility it is to think and speak clearly and stand out boldly for justice and right in whatever program he may propose.

The common people of Texas, the great mass that is producing the wealth and rendering service, must develop leaders with convictions well founded on principle and the courage to stand by these principles until they are written into the laws of the State. Texas should never again be subjected to the confused tax muddles that now prevails in the Texas legislature. The source of taxes is far more important than the amount collected. A tax on labor whether produced through a large corporation or produced by the single unskilled worker, is a tax that will hamper and burden every worker. Just as long as we persist in placing an annual fine, under the guise of a tax, on industry with the view of making the big fellow pay, we are simply adding the load to our own backs. The sooner the farmer and wage earner realizes this the sooner he will demand a change.

TWO GREAT WOLVES SLAIN BY HOUNDS IN NINE HOUR CHASE

LEADER OF PACK AND MATE DIT IN BATTLE TO DEFEND RANGE.

Two great timber wolves belonging to a band of outlaw beasts which for more than a year have ranged in the forests West of Cameron were run down and killed by a pack of hounds Monday in what is said to have been one of the most thrilling chases in recent years.

With his pack and a party of huntsmen, Penn Wolf, district clerg of Milam county, left the city shortly after midnight Sunday, reaching the range at day break. Shortly after the huntsmen had pushed their way into the woodlands, the pack picked up the trail of one of the beasts, a female of hugh size, and after three hours of killing pace closed in for the kill near the home of a farmer. The wolf with its great fangs defied and defeated the pack in a grueling battle for more than an hour. When the huntsmen arrived the wolf was shot and the pelt measuring about six feet was taken and will be preserved by Dr. W. R. Newton of Cameron who was a member of the party.

Again taking up the trail the hounds shortly picked up the course of a large male that had forsaken its mate when the cry of the pack was first heard at day break in the forest. After about nine hours the dogs closed in on their prey and the battle of fangs was again resumed. The wolf was weakened by the long run and though fighting with terrible fierceness was no match for the eleven great hounds. The one time king of the range and leader of the outlaw beasts died in a last great effort to defend his range against man and beast. By the time the huntsmen arrived at the scene of the battle the dogs had slain the wolf. The pelt was found to be useless because of the tearing fangs of the dogs which for more than an hour had battled the beast.

Farmers residing near the forests have lost much livestock and poultry because of the wolf pack which with the closing down of winter took up the meat trail. The pack is fast being thinned out and within a short time the timber wolf will be extinct in this section.

RELIGIOUS INTOLERANCE.

The Cameron Herald in its issue of Feb. 1, presented an editorial "Let Us Have Religious Freedom" in opposition to Representative O. D. Baker's School bill. The bill prepared for introduction by Mr. Baker was published by the larger papers of the county, and no doubt every citizen with ordinary intelligence can readily see, after reading the bill, what an awful punch Mr. Baker was driving at religious freedom. It has been the policy of the Gazette to not take sides on any question that arises for discussion but we will have to borrow a few inches from the boundary line and say that we endorse Editor J. B. White's view about the school bill.—Milano Gazette.

WHY PROSCRIBE A SCIENCE?

The science of treatment for human ills is a devious research which since the world began has furnished the predicate for a succession of progress that eulogises mankind as perhaps no other advancement among the many strides made in the evolution of the race. The science with each succeeding triumph discards the vestments of other years and sweeps on to greater fields of benefaction.

Like all other sciences, the medical science has found in each new field of discovery its formulas of progres and thus through the long way of time has found in the path of research the leaven of beneficial application and attendant blessings to mankind.

To say this or that method of application, or code of practice is right and all others are wrong, is to deny the succeeding stages of improvment and discovery which have in fact established the medical profession on its firm rock. Whatever contribution has been made to perfecting the science, all must agree that the collateral sciences have had no small place in the evolution of treatment, therefore entitled to recognition insofar as they have established their worth and benefit.

To what place are we come in the affairs of men when by legislative enactment we would try to proscribe a science? Will we deny the devine right of research to establish its fruits for the benefit of mankind because a monopoly of practice has builded a commercial bulwark, though indeed entitled to its emoluments by reason of untold benefits? Let us welcome whenever they become a benefit and any and all contributory sciences establish their worth to mankind.

There is now before the legislature of Teras what is known as the medical Practice bill sponsored by the state board of medical examiners designed as a protective measure for the people, but in reality a measure discriminatory and paternalistic.

It is not, in the opinion of The Herald within the province of legislation to curb or correct the progress of science. Whenever a legislature undertakes to legislate regarding matters of which it knows nothing, canfusion will be worse confounded and progress will be inevitably hampered. No one would be so foolish as to undertake to proscribe the modern practice of medicine and surgery, yet as a parallel of this principle it is sot logical that one could successfully undertake to proscribe the practice of Dentistry, Optometry or any of the great sciences that have contributed so much to the progress of the race.

Now, by legislative enactment, to undertake to direct the course of medical practice and to limit its unmistakable collateral advancements to this or that method, would be both impractical and detrimental.

By the same law of research and science has the practice of Chiropractic, Osteopathy and other kindred sciences, become a factor in the healing facilities of the one great science. Can we in the face of these facts proscribe these sciences and deny them a place in the family of practice.

The feature of the bill to which an objection seems most logical is what is known as the "injunction" making it possible to restrain any and all practices not in strict accord with the now existing law prescribing the methods, thus prohibiting new discoveries and applications by which the science has made its progress. In addition it is proposed to require four years in a medical school before applicant may be licensed to to practice Chiropractic. If the science of Chiropractic has establishel itself as a healing science, and there seems no disputing of this, why does not the legislature in justice to progress, prescribe the qualifications for this science, establish a board of examiners and require standard degrees of proficiency as in all other branches of the profesion?

Again we ask why proscribe a science?

LYNCHING AND HOW TO STOP IT.

At the last meeting of the Board of Managers of the Board of Temperance Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. J. N. C. Coggin, D. D., Secretary for Colored work, offered the following resolution on lynching:

"We call earnestly upon the Methodist people throughout the length and breadth of the land to consider prayerfully and with a sense of duty the great problem of racial relations. Methodist ministers, both white and colored, should appeal to the Christian conscience of every community to stamp out the custom of lynching and to minimize those points of friction between the races which result in race warfare.

"Particularly urgent is the duty of the white people of the country to see that everyone charged with crime has a fair and open trial in effecient courts. It is a mistake to think that lynching is a necessity or that court action is not sufficient deterrent to all forms of crime. Too long has this issue been the football of politics and the subject of sectional recrimination. The problem has become national in its scope. The white people of the country control the courts and make the laws and for them to go outside of the law in the handling of crimes, is a degradation of themselves, an indictment of the governments which they have created, a humiliation to every state and a national scandal. Specific grievances of either the white or colored people of various communities should be corrected by frank conferences and complete understanding. If the Christian conscience of the nation is aroused the racial problem will disappear without further legislation or agitation which is tinged with hostility.

"We commend the Inter-Racial much to promote good will and dissipate misunderstanding in various Commissions which have done so states and we recommend the extension of this policy of inter-racial discussion and understanding to wider spheres."

A HOPEFUL TREND

The Public Ledger of Philadelphia of recent date has a significant article from the pen of a special correspondent upon the changing attitude of the non-prohibition public toward the Eighteenth Amendment. After narrating at length a conversation among several business men of bibulous proclivities who were admitting their growing condemnation at their self-indulgence and law violation, the following paragraph closes the letter.

Our discussion reached a conclusion somewhat along these lines: Trafficking with bootleggers is gradually coming to be regarded as not quite the thing. As liquor stocks carried at home are exhausted, a great many citizens will never break the law to replenish them. The supplying of cocktails or other drinks at banquets, etc., is already becoming an exception rather than the rule. The carrying of flasks, at first looked upon as "sporty," is not nearly so widely indulged in by decent people. Public sentiment toward professional bootleggers is changing and severe sentences are now widely approved. In short, the whole trend is distinctly toward less drinking among reputable citizens.

Incidentally, have you ever stopped to consider how far the closing of the saloons has helped to boom home building, automobile buying, savings bank deposits and the like in this country?

Now the foregoing carries great weight. One of the most humiliating features of the prohibition problem at this particular time is the attitude of supposedly reputable citizens who make bootlegging possible by personal patronage. These men stand well in the community and would indignantly resent any suggestion of unpatriotic act in continuing to indulge their appetite at the expense of the land. So long as a considerable number in any community maintain this selfish attitude, serious difficulties in the enforcement of the law will continue. It is therefore, a very hopeful story summed up by the Ledger's correspondent in the paragraph quoted above.

ROENTGEN

Roentgen is dead.

Millions of people have had good cause to rise up and call his name blessed for William C. Roentgen was the owner of the brain which saw what the X-ray might be to suffering humanity. Hertz and Lenard had already shown that the familiar cathode ray could penetrate metals and other opaque substances; it remained for Roentgen to make use of the discovery to see the shadow thrown by a bone upon a fluorescent screen, when illuminated by X-rays.

Roentgenology has made long strides since that day, thirty years ago, when his discovery was first flashed to a startled and incredulous world. Today no hospital of any pretensions is without an X-ray apparatus; no surgeon operates without an X-ray picture to guide him if it is possible to make one; no dentist undertakes any large operation upon a mouth or teeth without the magic picture first points the way.

We have new methods of making X-rays, new and better methods of using them, and we have added the name of Coolidge immediately below that of Roentgen: Coolidge, who made ductile tungsten, and so the Coolidge tube, possible. But no name can stand beside that of Roentgen, a statement with which Dr. Coolidge would be the first to agree.

Roentgen stands among the great benefactors of humanity. He saved countless lives and kept from unnecessary torture countless more. It is a source of great pleasure to all who use, or have benefited by his discovery, that he lived to a ripe old age, and to see his work universally used by all the world.

THE MEDICAL PRACTICE BILL.

The medical practice bill now agitating the legislative mind in Austin and supported by the State board of medical examiners, is offered as a measure to protect the already overprotected public, but apparently, it is an effort upon the part of several schools of healing to invoke the strong arm of the law to prevent rival schools from enjoying the privileges that the law bestows upon the already elect.

Older citizens remember how years ago that the younger schools had to struggle to get a foothold, so bitterly were they oppossed by the more ascient schools of medicine. Homoeopathy, the electrics, osteopathy and others had to fight at Austin before they were permitted to offer their knowledge and skill to suffering humanity. And probably at the present time there are other schools which those protected by existing law do not wish to admit to practice.

Isn't it strange that this form of State paternalism must increase with the advance of intelligence; that the citizen must be restricted even in the employment of the means to ameliorate his ills?

Has medicine become so exact a science that the law can afford to place its full approval upon this school that and bar rival schools? To one school all other schools are humbugs. Admitting it is the right of each school to have its opinion of the others, is it the province of the law, which knows nothing about medicine, to attempt to say which is the best school?

If the legislature must dabble into something it knows nothing about, it might look into the peoples side and investigate the scale of charges which have become common in Texas among the several schools which have a legal monopoly on the practice under present laws.

What does it now cost a farmer living eight miles from town to call a physician at midnight to treat his baby for croup?

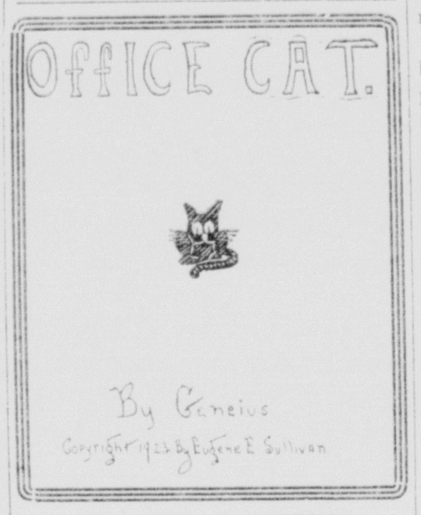

The schools that have the law erected in their front as a barricade to keep out rivals surely would not object to a legal bill that would fix the scale of charges for serving humanity. The Post is not advocating such interference with the doctors of the protected schools of healing, but merely contends that from the public's point of view that would be more pertinent than permitting the legislative power of the government to be invoked constantly by one school of medicine or group of schools of medicine against other schools.

The people ought to be trusted to use their own judgment in some degree in choosing methods of healing. Very likely the average citizen is quite as capable of doing this as the average legislator is to do it for him.

The scinece of healing is one that is receiving much attention throughout the world. Millions are being expended in research asd no doubt great progress is being made. No school knows it all or any considerable part of all that is known. To the general progress of the science of healing no doubt each school has contributed much. Even the oldest school of medicine has abandoned many of its most sacred theories within recent years as to the causes of the most common diseases, thereby admitting they were all wrong at one time not so very long ago.

The world rejoices whenever science scores a triumph and discards some old common blunder of the past, and the world respects and values the splendid men who strive to conquer pain and suffering.

But the law should not be made the weapon of one school of medicine to run other schools out of business. The law has a nobler function than that. So far as the statutes relate to the several schools of medicine or healing, they should not set up one school as the judge of its rivals, and as between the schools the law ought not to violate the democratic rule of "special privileges to none."—Houston Post.

STRANGE, BUT TRUE.

A tourist passing through a country village found that his watch had stopped. Seeing a little boy standing outside the village shop he went up to him and said:

"Can you tell me the time, sonny?"

"Just 12 o'clock," was the reply.

"Only 12," said the tourist. "I thought it was more than that."

"It's never any more in these parts, sir" answered the boy. "It goes up to 12 o'clock and then commences again at 1."

ers, and official representative of the Curtiss Airplane Motor Corporation, is in Corsicana making arrangements to stage an aviation meet here February 24th and 25th.

Mr. Tibbs stated that $500 dollars in prizes will be divided among the winners in the competitive events and that a large number of flyers would take part. The location of the aviation will be announced later.

One of the features of the meet will be the teaching of some local man to fly. Mr. Tibbs and a committe of local citizens would be asked to select five men and from this five men the pilots will select one man. The man selected by the pilots will be taught to fly an airplane straight and level in the air in thirty minutes, according to the aviator.

A number of stunt flyers will also be presented in connection with the program and stunts which will furnish thrills for all are promised.

The program each day will include Battle formation, Curtiss Race, Spot Landing, Acrobatic Contest, Wing Walking and Parachute Jump.

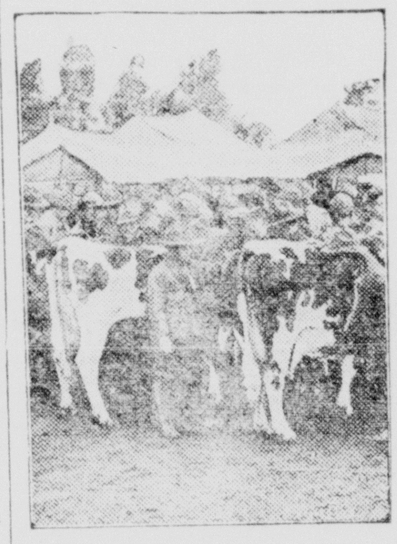

Mr. Tibbs stated that one of the main reasons for putting on these exhibitions over the country is for the purpose of establishing permanent landing field in each town he visits. In this way he hopes to establish a string of fields throughout Texas and Oklahoma in the near future. It was pointed out by Mr. Tibbs that the government in the near future expected to establish air mail lines throughout the country and that the contracts would be let to commercial flyers. This cannot be accomplished Mr. Tibbs said until an adequate string of aviation fields have been established throughout the country.

It is the intention of Mr. Tibbs to also establish a permanent aviation school in Corsicana with experienced pilots in charge.

Further announcement concerning the aviation meet and the aviation school will appear later.

SARCOPHAGUS OF ANCIENT KING IS FOUND IN TOMB

WORLD WAITS EAGERLY DEVELOPMENT IN RICH DISCOVERY OF BURIED CENTURY

Lukor, Feb. 16.—The saracophagus of the Pharaoh Tutankhamen was found when the inner chamber in his tomb was opened by the British archaeologists this afternoon.

Many pieces of furniture also were in the mortuary chamber.

A large crowd of visitors and newspapermen had assemled early in the morning in anticipation of the unsealing. Before the work was started, impressions of the seals on the masonry were taken by the eminent Egyptologists, James H. Breasted and Allan Gardnier.

New York, Feb. 16.—The tomb of Pharaoh Tutankhamen, opened by explorers today in the valley of the Kings near Luxor, is by far the richest treasure trove ever uncovered in the Necropolis of ancient Thebes, and in all likelihood is the richest that ever will be discovered, Ambrose Lansing, acting curator of the Egyptian section of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, declared today.

Tombs of practically all the early kings of Egypt have been accounted for, most of them thoroughly looted by native grave robbers, said Lansing.

"There are only two or three royal tombs left to look for," he said, "and they are those of lesser kings. All the others have been opened, a few by archologists, but the most of them by vandals, who left nothing of importance behind them."

Royal furniture, garments, chariots, ornaments and works of relic beauty and exquisite workmanship, already have been found in unprecedented quantities in the outer chamber of Tutankhamen's tomb. The funeral equipment, much of it heavily encrusted with gold and semi-precious stones, is valued at millions of dollars.

But treasurers of greater value in the eyes of Egyptologists—bits of historical data of the era antedating Christ by 13½ centuries—are hoped from when the heiroglypic inscriptions within the tomb itself have been translated.

One of the most fascinating theories the records in the tomb may confirm or explode is that advanced by Authur Weigall, one of the best known Egyptologists, that Tutankhamen was the Pharaoh who oppressed the children of Israel and whose army, pursuing the Isrealites at the time of the exodus, is declared in bibical accounts to have been swallowed up in the Red Sea.

Tutankhamen previous discovered records show, took the name "tutankhaten" when he first acceded to the throne, thus indicating his sympathy with the so-called "heretical," monotheistic worship of Aton, the "all-loving father of all creation," which had been introduced into Egypt under his predecessor, Akhnaton. In the midst of his eight-year reign, however, he changed his name to Tutankhamen, indicating a return to the polythelstic Ammon worship of his ancestors.

Weigall's theory is that the "Aton" worship was in reality the Jehovah worship initiated in Egypt by Moses and that when Tutankhamen returned to the worship he began the oppression of the Isrealites, icluding the enforced brickmaking without straw which resulted in the exodus. A comparison of the bibical record with records giving the Egyptian side of the story long has been awaited by critical students of the Bible with keen interest.

Lansing exhibited a series of photographs of the Valley of Kings, one showing the exact location of Tutankhamen's tomb. Tucked away in a sandstone cliff. It is but a stone's throw from the looted tomb of Menephtah, previously believed by Egyptologists to have been the "Pharaoh of the exodus."

FINDS MILAM COUNTY PETROLEUM PRODUCTS ARE VERY SATISFACTORY

Little more than a year ago in January, 1922, the oil fields between Rockdale and Minerva were still more or less a dream, so far as cash returns could be reckoned.

Effort, perspiration, money and perhaps some talent had been expended in strenuous attempts to bring them into production through, the year which had passed up to January 15, 1922. But no one had yet banked a single dollar as revenue from Rockdale Minerva oil.

Then, one day the magic wand of capital waved over a refinery site at Minerva. John S. Owens of Ardmore Okla., started men to breaking dirt. Work was pushed and the first run of gasoline and kerosene was made January 15, last year.

From that date on the increase in production, while it has not been rapid, has been steady and the Owens Refining Company has been in regular operation for most of the time. There are now nearly 100 producing wells delivering oil constantly to the Owens Company pipe lines.

What has Rockdale received from this? perhaps has often been asked. Here is a statement received from Mr. Owens showing that to Rockdale citizens there has been paid since January 15, 1922, in royalties and production checks, and deposited in Rockdale banks, a total of $35,590.20 up to January 1, 1923.

Added to this total, there was a total production in Januray last of 18,562 barrels which sold for $1.50 to $1.80 a barrel, with a cash value in Rockdale royalties close to another $4,000, which brings the total cash received by Rockdale citizens nearly up to $40,000. Not bad, at that, is it?

By the way, here is a good one which B. Ashby tells. E. B. Phillips owns and has operated a tractor engine on his farms. The tractor every day was consuming twenty gallons of some fellow's kerosene. Learning of this Ashby made a sale talk to Phillips about using the Orco brand of kerosene. Sequel: Philips saves five gallons a day ,for the tractor now uses up but 15 gallons. More miles, less gallons. Ask Phillips about it.

DR. COOK SUES PRESS FOR MILLION DAMAGE ON LIBEL ALLEGATION.

Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 19.—Asking for judgment against the Fort Worth Press Company for $1,000,000 damages for the publication of what he terms a "slanderous" and "libelous" article, Dr. Frederick A. Cook, Artic exploerer and oil operator, filed suit Thursday noon in Sixty-seventh District Court.

It was stated in the petition that Dr. Cook is a "good, true, honest and respectable citizen," that "since birth he has conducted himself in an honorable way," and that he is "held in high esteem and repute." Despite these facts, the pleadings assert, the Press published the article on Feb. 10 to malaciously injure and ruin him financially and to "injure his good name, reputation and standing." It also is stated that the article was printed through the publication's desire to be sensational.

What is puported to be a copy of the article is included in the petition. It has the following heading:

"Doc Cook, Oil Fraud Artist, Quits Paying Dividends."

The petition states that the article referred to Cook as "a promoter of gush and hot air, promoter of falsehoods and misrepresentations, promoter of trickery and fraud," who "has dug his financial grave and is about to be laid away in it and with him will be laid away the savings for which thousands of people all over the United States toiled with honest hands and hearts."

Another paragraph in the article as published referred to the Artic explorer as "the faker and the flim-flammer," the petition continues.

LOAFERS WOULD ALL LIKE TO BE BOSSES.

Did you ever notice how soon a crowd will gather to watch a gang of men working at a job on the street? It make no difference whether it is fixing a leak in a water main, getting a safe into a building or putting in a big plate glass window. In two minutes after the work starts the fellows begin to gather, and in two minutes later each and every one of them has offered words of advice and consolation. The spectators always know a whole lot more about the work than the fellows whose business it is to perform it. There are generally about ten fellows standing around giving advice while two or three are doing the work.

It is just so in life. About nine-tenth of the fellows stand around and offer advice while the one-tenth get busy and do the work. It is the fellows that do the work who succeed. The advice work givers are the anes who follow along after the parade and throw stones at the fellows who have won seats in the bandwagon —Bartlett Tribune.

NO REST—NO PEACE

There's no peace and little rest for the one who suffers from a bad back and distressing urinary disorders. Cameron people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor. Be guided by their experience.

A. S. Mosely, Travis St., Cameron, says: "My kidneys were irregular in action and the trouble was gradually becoming worse. I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills and before long, my back stopped aching and my rest at night was undisturbed. I couldn't expect any more pleasing results than I had from Doan's."

SEVEN YEARS LATER. Mr. Mosley said: "I always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone I hear complaining of kidney trouble. I use them occasionly as a tonic and they keep my kidneys in good order."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kindney Pills—the same that Mr. Mosely had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

GAUSE CORN CLUB SOLICITS MEMBERS

Rockdale, Feb. 15.—Since the success of the Gause Corn Club boy—Milam County—in winning the Ferguson second prize at the State Fair much greater interest is being taken in better corn production. County Agent George Banzhaf is calling for 500 members to join the Milam County Boys' Corn Clubs, and is soliciting the aid of rural teachers in sending the boy's applications. Banzhaf holds what is perhaps the longest state record of holding down the job of county farm agent, unbroken tenure of 15 years.

LOST THREE HEAD OF CATTLE DURING FREEZE.

Mr. G. W. Butts reports the loss of three head of cattle from his herd during the recent cold weather of last week. He has something like 40 odd head and considering the difficulty he had in rounding them up and giving them proper feeding attention and potection from the cold, his loss is slight. However, the few head which died are believed to have killed one another in chasing themselves around the feed stack.

A VALENTINE FROM THE STORK

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Lesser Newton was blessed with an unusually fine Valentine on Wedneday, a Valentine from the stork. It was a fine looking Valentine with bright eyes and dark, silky hair.

He is not the Valentine that just brings tokens of love for one day, then to be forgotten until another year rolls around, but one that brings love each day of the year, through many Valentine days.

GIRL STRIKES MEXICAN WITH CAR SATURDAY.

A Mexican living east of town, on one of the farms belonging to J. H. Burnett, received a sprained wrist and a few minor bruises Saturday about noon near the Union depot, when Miss Allieda Stewart was turning the car which she was driving to leave the station. According to bystanders, she was circling the car when the Mexican, apparently unaware of the car, started to leave the platform for town. The car struck him, sprained his wrist, and a few minor scratches were received when he fell to the ground. Dr. F. A. Liddell was summoned. According to physicians, the injuries were not of a serious nature. Bystanders stated that the accident was unavoidable.

SANTA FE COW, SOW AND HEN TRAIN COMING.

The agricultural department of the Santa Fe railway expects good results from the livestock demonstration train which will be in Milano Monday, March 12, at 3:55 p. m., for a meeting with farmers and town folks who are isterested in dairying, hog raising, poultry raising, according to The Earth, the company's agricultural and industrial paper.

"In the enterprise described," says the Earth, "the Santa Fe is co-operating with the A. and M. College which has several important messages for everybody who gives thought to the development of the important farming business of this great commonwealth. The college is sending its three best men to present three big subjects Professor Evans, dairying; Professior Ward, hog raising; Professor Edson, poultry raising; and others of the extension service, who will discuss the three subjects generally. These men will be disappointed if farmers fail to ask questions. They urge farmers to bring their problems to the meeting. Women are specially invited.

"In addition to the lectures mentioned, there will be a meetisg for boys and girls, conducted by John Eagan, A. L. Smith, and T. B. Wood, district agents of the college extension service. A number of Santa Fe officials will accompany the party.

"The train will stand at the Santa Fe station, and the meeting will start immediately upon arrival.

"The Santa Fe has run a number of trains similar to the one now organizing for Texas, and satisfactory results have followed in every instance. Everything points to success for the project under way. Farmers are invited to help make it a success by attending the meeting."

MILANO MAIL CARRIER ON JOB 18 YEARS.

On last Thursday, February 8th, Mr. M. J. Price covered the route of his rural mail line for the first day of his 19th year. Thus for 18 long years he has served the people on Milano route 3 with his daily visit. When he started on his first day 18 years ago, Mr. Price says that there was snow on the ground just like it was last Thursday. He never will forget that day, but no doubt many of the day all in between that length of time would not be remembered beautiful days, for Mr. Price has covered that mail route in all kinds of weather, rain or shine, through winter's biting cold and through summer's scorching heat, and through it all he is still wearing that pleasant smile that is always so friendly to everybody. There are many kinds of vocations that are monotonous and grinding routine of duty, and we presume the rural mail carrier has his daily grind to contend with also, and the man who can keep it up for 18 years and still keep smiling certainly is a wonder in this day and time of earthly life.—Milano Gazette.

BOY SPRAINS ANKLE WHEN ATTEMPTINS TO CATCH CAR.

Jas. Hairston, Milano's basket ball team's "running forward," received severe sprains Feb. 2, when he fell from a car driven by Lewis Haddox. The accident occurred when James attempted to catch on to the car while it was in motion. Not getting a good hold, he was swung from the car, received a severe sprain at the ankle and some minor bruises. Last reports he was getting along nicely.—Milano Gazette.

TWENTY-TWO MANIACS PERISH IN BIG FIRE ON MANHATTAN ISLAND.

New York, Feb. 18.—Twenty-two maniacs and three attendants perished in a fire that swept through a three-story building of the Manhattan State Hospital on Ward's Island today.

Sixteen hundred violently insane men imperilled in the building refused to be moved from the building and battled with their rescuers. Scores of attendants who valiantly fought to save the fear-crazed inmates were injured in making the rescue. Many inmates also were hurt.

The three attendants, whose charred bodies have been recovered, gave their lives trying to save others.

Hundreds of the maniacs after being thrust out into the cold hurled aside their rescuers and rushed back into the burning building.

During the maelstrom of shrieking humanity, firemen had their hose ripped from their hands by patients. One frenzied group strove to wrest the axes from the firemen. The fire fighters were forced to strike down their assailants with the handles of the axes.

That the death list did not attain much higher figures was due to the heroism of the attendants and firemen.

A pitiful volunteer fire company, composed of employes, made a brave stand against the fast sweeping flames. But their right as they soon realized, was in vain. No apparatus came from the East River shore a short distance opposite.

Eight companies of firemen rumbled to the water's edge. There they stopped. The equipment could get no further. The small ferry boats that serve Ward's Island were insufficient to transport the heavy fire trucks. All that could be sent was a hose cart.

In the building destroyed were the most violently insame men on the Island. In the wing first aflame were 90 men segregated as homicidal and assaultive types.

A few moments after the alarm of fire was given the lower floors of the building were a jam of indescribable confusion.

The flames were blazing through the corridors.

Man's Conquest of Time

The progress of mankind, from the earliest recorded ages, has been marked, by a ceaseless struggle against the limitations of time and space.

Civilization is mutual interchange of thought and the product of thought. This interchange demands transportation, hence the development of civilization has paralleled the improvements in transportation.

A useful lifetime should not be measured in hours lived, but in deeds done. Doubling man's productive capacity offers the same net result as doubling his period of usefulness or doubling the number of producers.

More than any other single factor of civilization, the automobile has multiplied the producing power of man, by decimating time and distance, and by providing a broad and flexible means for the transportation of men and their products.

The amazing growth of the automobile industry could not have been, had not the automobile more than justified itself as an economizer of manpower, a stimulator of production and a creator of wealth.

LEGISLATURE MUST RUSH FINAL ACTION

ONLY THREE WEEKS LEFT TO COMPLETE WORK ON IMPORTANT MEASURES.

Austin, Texas, Feb. 18.—Although adjournment time is only three weeks away, the Thirty-eighth legislature has so far taken no final action on some of the most important measures before it. Chief among these are the revenue bills, which have been pretty well advanced in the house, but have received little consideration at the hands of the senate. They will be given public hearing before senate committees tomorrow and Tuesday nights.

The Coffee house bill levying a 3 per cent tax on the production of oil is still before the senate state affairs committee, with strong possibilities of a report some time this week. No other revenue bill is yet with the senate; the Cowen gasoline tax and Patman intangible tax bills being still before the house for third reading. The Dinkle income tax bill was killed by the house last week.

It is likely the senate will give early consideration to the Rountree-Quaid house resolution providing for a vote on the proposition of holding a consitutional convention. The resolution was finally adopted by the house late Friday. It is now in the hands of the senate committee on constitutional amendments, with little disposition on the part of committeemen to predict what will be done with it.

This week will doubtless determine the fate of the Pope text book bill. The joint committee appointed to compromise house and senate diferrences on the measure could reach no agreement last week, and unless new committees are appointed which can effect a compromise, the measure will die, it is said. Some further action in the matter is expected in both houses this week.

The house committee on eleemosynary institutions is expected to render a report on the Purl resolution calling for an investigation into the affairs of the juvenile training school for girls. The house debated the resolution last week and finally referred it to the committee. The committee meets to consider it Monday or Tuesday, Chairman Beasley said.

The Davis bill providing for state printed textbooks and the Carpenter resolution petitioning congress for a new immigration regulation law are among the more important measures before the senate this week.

Clean Kidneys By Drinking Lots of Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers or Back Hurts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts can not injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

CONFESSED SLAYER FACES NEW CHARGES.

Waco, Feb. 18.—Three more complaints were filed Saturday night against Roy Mitchell, mulatto, already charged with murdering four white men and one woman.

The new complaints charge the negro with criminal assault upon Mrs. M. L. Mays, May 25, 1922; Miss Naomi Boucher, Nov. 20, 1922, and Mrs. Ethel Denecamp Jan. 19, 1923, making eight charges in all against Mitchell.

Filing of the assault complaints by County Attorney C. S. Farmer is a sequel to the alleged confession of Mitchell that he killed five people, in which confessions the mulatto is said by officers to have admitted attacks upon the female companions of Harrell Bolton, Grady Skipworth and W. E. Holt, after the three men had been killed.

Mitchell is the negro upon whom McLennan County authorities have placed the blame for a series of the most brutal attacks and slayings in the criminal annals of the Southwest.

Mrs. Mays was auto riding with Harrell Bolton on the Corsicana road near Waco, when her escort was killed and she was outraged; Miss Boucher was riding with Grady Skipworth in Cameron Park when at the scenic Lovers' Leap, young Skipworth was slain, hurled over the steep precipice, after which she was the next victim of the negro's lust. Mrs. Denecamp was riding with W. E. Holt on the Springfield road when Holt was shot to death and she was criminally assaulted and then killed by her assailant.

Mitchell now reposes in the McLennan County jail, facing charges of killing Bolton, Skipworth, Holt, Mrs. Denecamp and W. P. Driskell and of assaulting the three women. The mulatto now refrains from former philosophical utterances or statements. He has a Bible with him, spending most of his time reading it, and maintaining a vigorous appetite.

Mitchell has also confessed, according to Sheriff Leslie Stegall, that he killed Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barker and 13-year-old Homer Turk at Concord, near Waco, little more than a year ago, but County Attorney Farmer and the sheirff are waiting for further proof before filing charges against the negro in connection with this triple murder.

Other complaints could be filed against Mitchell, the county attorney pointed out, since Mitchell in his purported confession is said by officers to have admitted shooting another white couple in Cameron Park, about two weeks before the Bolton tragedy, and he also confessed to criminally assaulting a negro woman.

"We've got enough charges against Mitchell now," Farmer said. Monday the jury committee meets to select the grand jury which is expected to take up Mitchell's machinations ahead of other cases. The jurors to be chosen by the assemblymen will assemble March 5 to hear the court's charge.

50 DOGS KILLED AT BARTLETT AFTER BIG SCARE OF MAD DOG

Bartlett, Tex., Feb. 13.—A large suspicious looking dog was found roaming about town here and having vicious fights with every dog with which he came in contact. He was killed and his head was sent to the Pastuer Institute in Austin. It was found that the dog had rabies. The sheriff has ordered all dogs to be locked up and those left to roam about have been killed. Fifty or more dogs have been killed and is rumored that others, which have been bitten are at large.

HENRY C. CAMERON ADDRESSES LETTER TO "OLD FRIENDS" IN FORMER HOME.

The following communication has been received from Henry C. Cameron of Columbus, Ga., addressed to the Herald and to his old friends in Cameron. Mr. Cameron was formerly a practicing attorney in Cameron and remembers many of the old pioneers in Cameron with whom he was associated as school mate and as citizen. He says in this interesting letter that he does not recall the names of many but their faces and kind deeds are with him as priceless treasures of that good day in his youth when he knew Milam county in the flower of its pioneer period.

Columbus, Ga.,

The Cameron Herald,
Cameron, Texas.

Dear Cameron Herald:—

You will observe that the emphasis on "Cameron," but is not because the Herald is not worthy of emphasis is on "Cameron," but not because a credit to any town or city, but because the town (city now) of Cameron has a warm place in my heart. Yes, when I think of Cameron, Texas memory reverts to the distant past-52 years ago (1871). When I landed in your little town from Calvert by stage it contained not more than 300 or 400 inhabitants; it was not incorporated as I now recall there was not a brick building in the place; no church buildings, the old school-house was used as a church for both Methodists and Baptist, and for other services when there were any. As I now recall, there was not a single business house east of the court house; on the east corner of the street on the south stood the hotel, and on the same street westward were the main stores; on the street west of the court house were two or three stores, and on the north two or three stores; less than a dozen in all.

The doctors were: Anthony, Isaacs and Broadnax. The lawyers were: C. R. Smith, W. M. McGregor, ——— Tarxer, N. P. Garrett, W. K. Homan and F. M. Adams. Homan was the editor of the newspaper (have forgotten the name). Don't remember the names of the court officials, but think Van Slyke was clerk of court.

I see in your paper names that I remember, among them the following: Hefley, Green, Yoe, Henderson et al. Possibly some of these were my school boys and girls; but, boys and girls no longer; they are all getting old, and many of them "crossed on the other side."

Some of my sweetest and best friends live in the "Lone Star State." Many of their names the subconscious mind refuses to recall, but their deeds of kindness will remain as long as life lasts.

I would like very much to visit Cameron; such a visit would be sadly pleasant; to see and visit the old places where now stands a prosperous city, but it would be sad to realize the fact that the once familiar faces of much loved friends are gone. I have passed my 75th mile-post in life's journey from the cradle, to,—well, I don't know, but to a better land I hope! While my letter-heads might indicate that I am actively engaged in the practice of law, such is not the case. I am on the side-track, gazing westward; most of my loved ones are in "the other room," and I am waiting-some times anxiously-for the door to open and the hand of some loved one to becken me to come in. But pardon me I have written more than I intended.

I thank you for your kindness in sending the Herald, and you have never sent the bill.

With best wishes for the success of the Herald, Cameron, Milam county, and all the good people of the City and county, I am

Truly yours,
HENRY C. CAMERON

CHICKEN THEFT FELONY BILL IS KILLED

Austin, Feb. 15.—The Sparkman anti chicken thieving bill met its doom in the Senate today. After the measure had been passed by the House, the Senate killed it and shut off all further consideration.

The vote on the passage 11 to 17 with three present not voting. The measure would have made it a felony to steal any amount of chickens or other fowls punishable by as much as two years in the pentitentary or six months in jail.

The House publication bill, fixing the rate of legal advertising, and the Sweet employment agency bill were passed finally by the Senate.

Vote on the employment agency bill was 23 to 5, making the measure effective as soon as signed by the Governor. No record vote was taken on the publication measure, which places the rate of legal and political advertising at the lowest commercial rate for such advertising maintained by each paper. Political advertising was included by Senate amendment to the bill yesterday. The Sweet bill prescribes strict regulations for the licensing of private fee-charging employment agencies.

Representatives Stroder and Lestourgen of San Antonio introduced a joint resolution preposing a constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to establish a State bank to be operated by State officials exclusively as a depository for State funds and reserve funds of existing State banks.

The Quinn bill establishing reciprocity between Texas Insurance companies and those of other States was passed finally by the Senate today without a record vote. The bill as passed carried several minor amendments. The effect of the measure is to prohibit foreign insurance companies operating in Texas unless Texas companies are granted similar privileges in other States.

MAYFIELD'S FINE PAID BY FRIEND IN COURT AT AUSTIN

Austin, Texas, Feb. 15.—The case against Earle B. Mayfield, United States Senator-elect from Texas, charged with disturbing the peace following a personal encounter with Silliman Evans, Ft. Worth newspaper man, was disposed of in justice court today when a friend of Mayfield's appeared and paid a fine of $12.80. The name of the person paying the fine was withheld by the court.

Although thy effect of the action in the case is to hold the senator-elect guilty of disturbing the peace, according to court officials, Mayfield denies that he plead guilty of the charge. He said he knew nothing of the action of the person who paid the fine until several hours after the case was disposed of.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Ladies! Try this! Darkens beautifully and nobody can tell—Brings back its gloss and youthfulness

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not ...ful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION PLAN PASSES THE HOUSE

WOULD SUBMIT MATTERS TO VOTERS IN GENERAL ELECTION

Austin, Texas, Feb. 16.—The house late today ordered submitted to the voters of Texas the proposition of holding a convention at Austin in May, 1925, for the purpose of revising, altering or amending the present state constitution or of framing a new one. By a vote of 77 to 43, it adopted the Rountree-Quaid concurrent resolution after accepting three amendments dealing with the number of convention delegates and the manner of their selection.

The first amendment offered by Mr. Rountree provides that the proposition of calling the convention shall be submitted at the general election of 1924, and in the event of a favorable vote, that the delegates shall be chosen at a special election in March 1925. The vote on the amendment was 85 to 21.

The second amendment offered by Representative Price et al, with Representative Rountree concurring provides that the convention shall be composed of 93 delegates, three to be chosen from each state senatorial district by a direct vote of the people. The amendment further specifies that the delegates shall be chosen in accordance with the senatorial redistricting law passed by the Thirty-seventh legislature, which takes effect next year, and shall have the same qualifications as a state senator. The amendment carried 62 to 49

The third amendment was supplementary to the second amendment, and provides that where there are three or more counties in a district not more than two delegates shall be chosen from one county. This amendment was offered by Representative Bonham and carried 66 to 48.

Numerous other amendments were offered and several effforts were made to postpone consideration of the resolution and to adjourn the house without action on the measure, but all met defeat. One of these amendments by Lackey, provided that no public officeholder should be eligible to serve as delegate. The vote was a tie, 59-59, and the amendment lost.

As originally drawn, the resolution would have required a two-thirds majority in both houses, but its proponents believed by changing it to a concurrent resolution requiring a mere majority, they would enhance its chance of passage and not injure its purpose. Its title was therfore changed form a joint resolution to a concurrent resolution.

As generally drawn the resolution also provided that the constitutional convention proposition and the names of the delegates should both be voted on at the November general election. But the objection was advanced that in the event of an unfortunate vote on the proposition itself, the selection of delegates would be unnecessary and the work of aspiring delegates in the interest of their candidacy would be for naught. So the Rountree amendment was offered.

The original draft further provided that the convention should be attended by 115 delegates, three from each senatorial district and fifteen to be selected at large. Proponents of the resolution considered that the mode of selecting the fifteen extra delegates would be unsatisfactory, so the Price amendment was agreed upon.

PEACE WITHOUT ANY POLITICS, THE PLEA OF SPEECH BY McADOO.

Sacremento, Cal., Feb. 16.—The problems of world peace and re-construction will be solved only when they are divorced from political parties and made non-partisan issues to be discussed as national uestions and not as material for campaigns, in the view of William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury. He spoke to this effect at a banquet given in his honor here last night.

Pleading that something be done to arouse Americans "from their apathy toward public questions," Mr. McAdoo warned that unless something speedily was done, republicans and democrats alike would face a situation "full of danger and possibly disaster."

STREET PAVING IS POSTPONED; CITY CANCELS ELECTION

PROPONENTS OF PAVING ASK CANCELATION ALLEGING ILLEGAL CALL.

The election called for Tuesday February 13 to vote on an issue of $100,000 in paving bonds was canceled at a meeting of the City Council Monday morning.

The Council was convened by Mayor White on request of the paving committee after it had been found that the law had not been complied with on technical points. At the meeting the paving committee was represented by S. A. Cottle, chairman, J. W. Coleman and J. E. Mangum. The anti paving committee was represented by A. N. Green, chairman and Giles L. Avriett. The anti paving committee made no protest at the cancelation order of the council.

O. L. Kidd, local attorney, and Paul Webb, city attorney, were present and both gave their opinions regarding the issues. Mr. Kidd said that the failure of the council to pass a resolution or ordinance setting out the need of street paving in Cameron in addition to the order for the election, was sufficient grounds to invalidate the issue of bonds.

Mr. Webb said that he had recently consulted the attorney general and that his own opinion was that this order could have been passed after the issue of the bonds. A number of the councilmen agreed with Mr. Webb but inasmuch as there was a difference on the points and the fact that proponents of the paving bonds requested cancelation of the election the council voted to cancel.

The resolution canceling the election was offered by Henry M. Hefley and on motion of O. M. Smith the resolution was passed. There being no further business the council adjourned.

ARE YOU TO BE A WINNER OR LOSER?

Look at the men and women about you who have reached the age of fifty or more and you will see men and women who have won in the game of business and you will see those who have lost in the same game. Cadets' Great Ride.

Two hundred and fifty senior cadets of Victoria, B. C., have recently completed a 1,400-mile ride on bicycles, bearing dispatches from the state commandant to the minister for defense. The small riders averaged more than 14 miles an hour, and they completed their task 6 hours and 23 minutes ahead of schedule. This fine performance roused public interest in the new system of cadet training, which has taken the place of the monotonous drill-yard evolutions. Australia is training its youngest soldiers in camaraderie, self-sacrifice, alertness and a love of athletics. The story of the 1,400-mile ride against unexpected obstacles has set a standard which will not be easily forgotten by the Australian boy. While the dispatch ride has done much to direct attention to a happier system of training, it has also served to awaken the interest of fathers and elder brothers.

Eggs From the Orient.

A train of 25 cars, loaded entirely with Japanese and Chinese eggs, left Vancouver, B. C., the other day, bound for New York. The train was made up of nine carloads sent over from Seattle to be attached to sixteen carloads of eggs from the steamer Empress of Russia. The eggs from Seattle were delivered by Japanese liners. The eggs, with the exception of 1,500 cases for London, England, and 1,000 cases for Montreal, were all consigned to New York. The shipment to the latter point consisted of approximately 17,500 cases of 30 and 36 dozen each, or about 6,500,000, more than an egg for breakfast for every man, woman and child in New York city.

SUPT. L. H. KIDD WILL LEAVE CAMERON SCHOOL THIS YEAR

WILL TAKE UP DUTIES WITH STATE NORMAL AT SAN MARCOS IN 1924.

Superintendent L. H. Kidd, for a number of years in charge of the school system in Cameron, has resigned as superintendent and will not be with the schools in 1924.

Mr. Kidd will go to San Marcos where he will be identified with the State Normal College in a responsible capacity. For the past several summers Mr. Kidd has conducted the normal courses in the school and in this way the managers of the normal became attracted to his ability as a school man and have offered him this higher place in his profession.

In the resignation of Mr. Kidd the city loses the services of one of the most competent superintendents in the state and his work here is enduring, his capacity making possible the most spectacular advancement in the history of the schools.

Both as a citizen and school man will Mr. Kidd be missed by the citizens of Cameron. While regreting his departure, respect for his ability enables the people to resign him to the higher place to which he has been called in his chosen work.

The school board has made no selection to fill the vacancy. Mr. Kidd will end his contract with the school here on August 1 and when the fall term of the Normal College begins will take up his duties with the school.

"Slimy Taste"

"When I feel stupid, get constipated, or bilious, I take a good dose or two of Black-Draught and it sets me straight," writes Mr. George B. Haislep, of R. F. D. 2, Columbia, S. C. "It cleanses the liver and I feel all right, and have not used any other medicine as I do not see the need of it. I am a guard at the State Reformatory, and have been for three or more years. When I first heard of

BLACK-DRAUGHT

and the good medicine it was, I had been having a tired feeling when I'd get up in the morning. I would be stiff and sore, and had a slimy, bad taste in my mouth, but didn't think so much of it till I began to feel stupid and didn't feel like eating—then I knew I needed medicine. It was then I began Black-Draught, and I felt all made over, ready for any kind of work, ready to eat and sleep. So, for any return of this trouble, I take Black-Draught, and for 25 years it has been my medicine, and I wouldn't be without it at all. My work is constant. I am on my feet a lot. I am out of doors, and fresh air and Black-Draught are all the medicines I need. I recommend it to others for I know it is good."

CIVIC LEAGUE TO PLANT TREES IN THE CITY PARK

PLEA IS MADE FOR CONTRIBUTION OF TREES BY CITIZENS.

At their regular meeting Friday afternoon, Feb. 2 the ladies of the Civic League decided to observe the month of February as tree planting month at the Park.

We ask every citizen who is interested in preserving and adding to the beauty of our park to give a pecan or elm tree, and come down and plant it. Already we have several promised and in next week's papers we will have a list of the names of those who respond to this appeal.

What nobler monument could one erect to the memory of a loved one who has passed on, than a living tree to add comfort and beauty to our people's play ground? Some poet has truly said: "He who plants a tree works with God."

There is a committee to decide on the location, and the City Council is paying a man to take care of what is planted. Those interested, and we hope there are many, will please notify Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Arthur Baskin or Mrs. Geo. Graves.

CIVIC LEAGUE.

GOVERNMENT BY BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS.

(Hearne Democrat)

The tendency of the times seems to be to get as far as possible away from local self-government, that is "government of the people, for the people and by the people," and to lodge jurisdiction of everything before some board or commission sitting at Washington or Austin.

A very fine example of this tendency gone to seed is the forty-six page bill introduced in the Texas Senate, and known as senate bill number two hundred fifty-eight, called the "Public Utility Bill."

In addition to being wholly unnecessary, the proposed measure is far too drastic, combines entirely too much legislation on too great a variety of subjects, and vests entirely too much power in one central board located at Austin, far removed from the people in the various localities who deal and have business transactions with these various utilities.

Under the present law both the city councils of the various cities and towns, and the district courts of the counties in which they are located, are given full power to regulate most of these utilities, to fix their rates and charges if there is any complaint in regard to same, and to prescribe rules and regulations for their operation, whereas, this bill ties up about a dozen kinds of these various small utilities throughout the state with interurban railroads and other large utlities of almost state wide operation, and taxes all alike annually one-half of one per cent upon their entire gross receipts, not for the general expenses of government nor to support schools, build roads, maintain the courts, or support the eleemosynary institutions; but to put into the "Utility Fund" to be kept to support a perfect swarm of engineers, experts, examiners, etc., who are to report their findings to the railroad commission. Most of the local utilities are exempted from the rate making power, but not from the tax, and they are all required to pay this same one-half of one per cent to this "Public Utility Fund." In other words, the small utilities are all taxed to raise a million dollar fund, and a conservative estimate is that more than one million dollars would be collected annually and turned into this fund, while said fund is for the sole regulation of the larger concerns. It is really a well devised scheme for a few of the large cities to collect sufficient funds to maintain and pay experts to help them out in their battles with utilities operating in them, whereas, the smaller utilities and the towns in which they are operating get no benefit from this large slush fund collected, except that they are graciously permitted to call upon these experts for information upon rate questions. Just what character of information they would get for their million dollar annual contribution to this fund "deponent saith not." Of this vast sum collected and kept in a separate regulation fund there is no limit whatever as to salaries to be paid these various experts and attaches. It does add one thousand dollars per pear to the salary of each of the three railroad commissioners, and instead of creating a separate board puts the entire burden of administration of the utilities in the two hundred and sixty counties in Texas upon the railroad commission, which already has the duty of rate making, regulation, schedules, location of depots and sidings, and the hundreds of other questions in relation to railroad operation, besides the supervision of oil drilling and the various pipe-lines in the state.

The findings of fact by this commission, located at Austin, is made absolutely conclusive and not reviewable by any court or jury, and upon the announcement of such finding penalties of one thousand dollars per day begin to pile up against the utility affected, and each day is made a separate offense, and upon five days notice the management of such utility may be taken out of the hands of the owners and placed in the hands of a receiver.

In the opinion of this editor this is the most drastic and unfair piece of legislation offered in the Texas Legislature for years and its enactment will do more to drive capital out of these forms of investment than any other cause we could conceive.

CONTEST ON MAYFIELD PREPARED BY G. O. P.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Preparations for filing a contest of the election of Earle B. Mayfield as United States Senator form Texas, in behalf of Geo. E. B. Peddy, defeated fusion and asti-K. K. K. candidate, were made here saturady night by R. B. Creager, Republican chairman of Texas.

Luther Nickels of Dallas, Peddy attorney, and Scott Woodward of Fort Worth formerly State Senator and assistant manager of the Peddy campaign, were in conference with the State chairman. They expect to enlist the support of the National Republican Committee Monday. Nickels declared the State administration had no justification in failing to place Peddy's name on the ballot.

"The campaign was simply a klan-anti-klan contest with only party lines broken," Nickles said. "The administration of Texas represents a goverment of the minority. For the last 10 years it has been impossible to get more than 30 per cent of the vote out on election day."

"We do not contend that Peddy got the majority of the votes cast but we do insist he obtained a great many more than were counted for him.

"The senatorial campaign in Texas resulted in a peculiar tangle. Mayfield was nominated by the Democratic party after which the Republicans put up E. P. Wilmot, a banker. The latter withdrew and a convention of Republicans and dissatisfied Democrats nominated Peddy.

"The Secretary of State, however, refused to certify this name to the ballot commission.

JOLLYISM.

Winter's here; for spring we're longing,
With its birds and flowers a-thronging—
Seems we're never satisfied.
Here in Texas winter weather
Brings the seasons all together
Nothing good for man's denied.

So don't mind the changing weather;
Keep your heart light like a feather,
Free from sorrow and from care,
And if troubles gather 'round you,
And it seems they will confound you,
Think a minute, but don't swear.

Ask the Lord that he may guide you,
Keep his promises beside you,
Then work on with all your might.
Keep your faith forever working
Never doubting, never shrinking
Anything you think is right.

Don't be fretting; don't be pining,
Let your light always be shining
Radiant hued just like a prism.
Keep your heart forever singing
Joys along your pathway bringing—
Keep on singing; keep on singing.

THIRD MEETING OF METHODIST BROTHERHOOD

The third banquet of the Brotherhood of the Methodist church was given Wednesday evening in the first floor of the new chuch. Circle No. One of the Missionary Society had charge under the direction of their Chairman, Mrs. Tom Denson. The George Washington feature was carried out in all details.

One would have thought they had been transferred to Mount Vernon, Virginia and was attending a reception with the illustrious George and Martha could they have just stepped into the church after eight o'clock and gazed upod the assembly, not knowing the real cause of this charming gathering. Truly it was a sight to be enjoyed. Real Martha's were there with powdered wigs, beauty spots, colonial curls and gowns of the period of the Washingtons. The entire hall was decorated with symbols suggestive of colonial times. Crepe paper steamers from corner of ceiling to cenral chandelier formed a canopy under which five tables were placed. Profiles of the "Father of our country" in full adorned the windows in black and white while bust designs in minature size were used for plate favors. Each guest when seated were presented with a crepe paper colonial shaped hat in black. A unique wig of grey was improvised and attached to hat which was placed upon the head of guests by a charming Martha attendant. The entire board appeared and presented the appearance of Colonial Gentlemen of the old school. Never have so many grey haired men been seen in Cameron. An immprovement on their looks would not be intimated, but was at least a very attractive set of masculine gender that the dainty Marthas mingled with on this enjoyable occasion.

Dr. A. S. Epperson acted as Toast Master. Dick Brewer, the inimitable, read the minutes of the last meeting, which was full of wit and humor. Many jokes were gotten off, the climax falling on Hubert Hefley, who got the baby.

Mrs. Alex Triggs, with Mrs. Key at the piano, sang "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," asd as an encore sang, "Smiling Through."

Mr. J. J. Pierce of Montgomery, Ala., was next introduced and in a dramatic and operatic manner, entertained his hearers in pleasing style.

Prof. L. H. Kidd, of Yoe High School, was next to be introduced and held his audience in rapt attention during his speech, which was along the line of progression.

The speaker of the evening was next to be introduced: Prof. W. A. Runyan of Conroe. His was a master speech of classic interpretations and kept his hearers in a roar of laughter.

A delightful menu was served which was in keeping with the occasion. Tables were attractively decorated with miniature cherry trees and hatchets, while figures of George and Martha adorned the center of the table.

This was an informal evening of pleasure for all who attended, and has become a monthly gathering of the men of the town.

IN MEMORIUM.

On Jan. 13, 1923, the people of Hoyt community were saddened by the death of Bennie Robison, only son and oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Robison.

Bennie was born March 29, 1906, and was converted in 1918 while he never united with any church, he was a good Christian boy and at all times a loyal and sincere friend, and is sorely missed by his many friends and school mates.

Every thing was done for Bennie through his illness that a good physician and loving father and mother and kind friends could do, but it was God's will that he should go. He was a most patient sufferer never complaining.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. D. Potts of Austin with interment at Rice cemtery.

We were indeed made sad to see this happy family broken. Bennie is survived by his father, mother and one sister, Alice, and the dear old grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Robison whom he loved so dearly, besides one aunt and a number of uncles to grieve his early death.

We offer deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

He has gone to live with Jesus,
Yes, we feel that he is there
And we hope some day to meet him
In that happy land so fair.

EVANS' Corner

This corner is devoted to business, politics and general news.

Many people have never realized how important it is to look carefully after their eyes. Are you one of those?

It is to your interest to have your eyes examined every year or two just for the satisfaction of knowing whether or not you need glasses.

If you have good eyes, keep them good by taking care of them. Putting off wearing glasses when you need them, is doing yourself an injustice.

Indigestion

Men and women suffering from indigestion, stomach-upset, appetite gone, constipation, have found that these troubles readily disappear under Chiropractic Adjustments. Why? Because the Chirocpractor found the cause of the trouble and corrected it.

The great problem for such people is first to get back an appetite, and at the same time digest the increased food eaten. Chiropractic adjustments enable the dyspeptic to eat more, and get more benefit from the food eaten, and without the distressing symtoms of indigestion. Chiropractic is safe in giving permanent relief in stomach disorders. Investigate and prove its merit.

JEFF KEMP AND HENRY RUBY MAKE TROUBLE BROTHERHOOD MEETING.

the same time explaining that the door was open.

"The door might have been open, said H. F.; but the DOORWAY was shore blocked." If Al G. Barnes had backed old Tusko up in that door way it would not have been blocked any tighter. But who was blocking the door way, the secretary inquired, there were but just a few persons on the inside of the house. Then H. said, "Well if you want to know the truth about it I will tell you. It was true that there were only a few on the inside but when Jeff Kemp with his three hundred and some odd pounds of avoirdupois bound up in an addominal circumference that would encircle a wagon wheel, and Henry Ruby who can stand flat footed and drink out of the city stand pipe—when these two birds get in a door way there is nothing else left to do but to stay out side. You can't get around, under or over. The secretary would advise the president to appoint a committee of twenty-five men to keep the Judge and Henry out the door way during all future meetings so that the crowd can get in on time.

Well everybody got seated. Dr. Epperson, our highly esteemed president thought that it would be a good idea to just kinda break the ice by playing a joke on some one. And as the speaker of the evening was the nearest to his left our president decided that he was just the man to pull the joke on; so he politely picks up his glass of water and camly pours the contents over in the speaker's lap. Of course everybody laughed including the speaker who was a broad minded man. He didn't even hit our president in the eye. At first the secretary thought that our president was baptizing the speaker to make sure that he was a Methodist but when he saw the amount of water that war poured on he knew immediately that was wrong; because no good Methodist like our president would ever try to make a Baptist out anyone.

After the joke on the visitor was over everybody got down to real business. The eating started, and there wasn't a man in the house that stopped hungry. In fact several brothers went away sick. A goodly number of them had to go to bed immediately after getting home. One or two of the fellows said that they thought something was wrong with the food. So the secretary, being a generous kind hearted and accommodating fellow thought he would just look into the matter. He didn't want any food served there to his friends that endangered their health. And when the secretary accosted one of the ladies concerning the food she very calmly said that the secretary was off his base. That not one of the ladies who prepared that food could help it because Brother Key and Brother Dunlap were part hog.

Buck Bonds made a kick about getting a chicken wing instead of the pulley bone. His wife told the secretary that she was the one that put that wing on Buck's plate; for she knew quite well that the only way for Buck to ever get a pair of wings was for some one to give them to him, he would never in this world earn a pair. Then if this is the case the secretary supposes that Buck still has that it will not be many more meetings before Buck will be the proud possessor of another wing to complete the pair.

Following the dinner the president calls for reading of the minutes of the previous meeting. The secretary read the minutes just like the president told him to do. Several members contended that some corrections of the minutes were in order but the president stood by the secretary in every respect and wouldn't let those birds change one word of the minutes. They still stand adopted as read.

After the minutes were read the program started. Moulton Cobb made a speech about something. The secretary could not hear what he was saying as Jack Adams had a cup of coffee that he was drinking and drowned every sound in the house as far as the secretary was concerned. Mack Harvey sang a solo, after which Brother Clinton and Bonds, Bill Alex, entertained the brotherhood with selections on violin and piano respectively. They had not hit a tune or two until Charlie Green began patting his foot. He forgot all about being in the basement of the church. Some one said that he heard him say, "Swing your partner and prominade." There was at least one good thing about the music—it recalled some of the good old days for some of the elderly brothers. Brother Clinton is by nature a violinist. His very make up, with his great abundance of flowing locks, would lead anyone to believe at first that he was a wonderful fiddler. Some of the secretary's friends from down around Yellow Prairie say that Brother Clinton can not only play fer 'em, but he can call me too.

After the breakdowns by Brother Clinton and Brother Bonds, Bill Alex, our president called on our most able city attorney for a speech. Mr. Webb made a brilliant speech in which he praised the women to the sky. Nearly all of the brothers thought he meant every word he said about those women. But he didn't fool the secretary. He can account for all those things. You brothers must not be so absent minded and forget that Mr. Webb's wife is red headed. That accounts for all that high tribute. The secretary knows, his mother is a little inclined to be read headed.

Following Mr. Webbs, Professor Paul Davidson from Southwestern University was called on by our president and he got up and said some mighty high sounding things about brothers that were on the program. He praised every one of them. This showed that he was a visitor. If he had known those birds like the secretary he would have an entirely different language.

It was now time for the speaker of the evening to make his address. So Dr. Horn, president of Southwestern University, after having been some what refreshed from the baptisimal reception that he had received at the hands of our honored president delivered the evening address. Every one seem very much impressed with the message he brought.

After the speaker of the evening had concluded the meeting adjourned. Every brother got his hat and went home to tell his wife and children what a good time he had, except Bill Triggs, H. F. Smith, Buck Bonds, Brother Dunlap and Hubert Hefley.
